

Our practice is committed to using antibiotics responsibly

When antibiotics are used too often, they may stop working when they matter most.

Responsible use protects pets now and in the future.

